FAIR WARNING.

About the 1st of January we shall publish a list of delinquent subscribress at the C. P. church. ers to the Courter, and the names of each will be kept in our columns until the dues of each are paid. When the large list of our subscribers is taken into consideration it will be readily seen that it would be a laborious task to interview each of our delinquents in person, and we will adopt the method of publishing a list of those of our subscription patrons in arrears, both as a matter invited to attend. of convenience to them and to ourselves, and at which no honest man will take offense. If, in the mean time, any of our patrons wish to pay their subscription, they can tell exactly what they owe us, by referring to the label opposite their names, on the Courier they receive each week.
